RE: DOR Tracking # 3608162

Dear <Licensee's Name>:

The Department of Banking and Securities has been informed by the Department of Revenue that you have outstanding tax obligations owed to the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. The Department of Revenue, by Executive Order 2011-06, is required to ensure that all individuals and entities holding various state licenses, permits, and registrations are compliant with the state tax laws and obligations.

The Department of Banking and Securities may consider appropriate enforcement action against its licensees for failure to comply with state tax laws. Such action may include, but is not limited to, the suspension, revocation or non-renewal of your license. In order to avoid an enforcement action regarding your license, you must contact the Department of Revenue within 20 days of the date of this letter to resolve your tax issues. You may contact the Department of Revenue at:

Pennsylvania Department of Revenue
Bureau of Compliance
4th and Walnut Street
Harrisburg PA 17128
Phone Number (717)787-3911 Option 5

Please reference this letter and that you have received it regarding your license with the Department of Banking.

Sincerely,

Robert E. Knaub
Director, Non-Depository Licensing Office
