

Instructions for PA-20S/PA-65 Schedule OC

Other Credits

WHAT'S NEW

The PA Organ and Bone Marrow Tax Credit has been reintroduced as a tax credit with the passage of Act 193 of 2014. As a result, the credit has been added to Schedule OC.

GENERAL INFORMATION

PURPOSE OF SCHEDULE

A PA S corporation, partnership and limited liability company filing as a partnership or PA S corporation for federal income tax purposes uses PA-20S/PA-65 Schedule OC to enter its share for each tax credit received after applying the tax credit to the entity's corporate liability, if any.

A tax credit passed through from another entity can only be applied to tax liability resulting from the RCT-101, PA Corporate Tax Report. Do not report a tax credit passed through from another entity on PA-20S/PA-65 Schedule OC.

REDUCTION IN EXPENSES

Pennsylvania does not allow the deduction of certain expenses used to qualify for the Neighborhood Assistance Program and the Educational Improvement Tax Credits. If the expenses were deducted in calculating federal-taxable income, the amount should be reported as a reduction in expenses on PA-20S/PA-65 Schedule M, Part B, Section E, Line f. Do not reduce Pennsylvania-taxable income by amounts paid to qualify for the tax credit. For additional information, see the specific section for these tax credits.

TAX CREDITS CLAIMED ON SCHEDULE OC

Tax credits are often awarded to PA S corporations or partnerships and passed through to entity owners. However, sometimes they are awarded to individual or fiduciary taxpayers. The PA S corporations and partnerships report tax credits on PA-20S/PA-65 Schedule OC.

The individuals and entity owners report tax credits on PA-40 Schedule OC. Different provisions apply to various situations, so please review the specific information for each tax credit.

For each tax credit claimed, the entity must submit with PA-20S/PA-65 Schedule OC and the certificate or notification that approved each tax credit claimed.

Following is some general information regarding tax credits.

- All of the restricted tax credits can be claimed against tax liabilities on any class of income.
- Restricted tax credits are nonrefundable. If applicable, other nonrefundable credits must be applied to the account before restricted tax credits.
- The request to pass through tax credit to an entity owner is irrevocable, therefore the entity should not pass through more than the owner can use in any single year.
- Tax credits passed through from pass through entities to other pass through entities or to estates or trusts may not be passed through to owners or beneficiaries.
- Tax credits passed from a QSSS or disregarded entity to its parent, cannot be further passed to the parent's owners.
- If permitted by a specific credit's enabling statute, the portion of the tax credit that exceeds the tax liability of the awardee of the tax credit may be carried forward unless the awardee elects to sell or assign the tax credit or pass it through to its owners.
- Special rules apply for taxpayers that sell/assign restricted tax credits as well as the taxpayers who purchase them or to whom tax credits are assigned. The rules apply to all taxpayers, whether or not they are incorporated. For specific information regarding these rules, review Corporation Tax Bulletin 2014-04 on the Department of Revenue's website, www.revenue.state.pa.us

SALEABLE OR ASSIGNABLE TAX CREDITS

The following programs offer saleable restricted tax credits:

Credit Program	Sales Provision
Film Production Tax Credit Program	Yes
Historic Preservation Tax Credit	Yes
Job Creation Tax Credit Program	Affiliate entity only
Keystone Innovation Zone	Yes
Keystone Special Development Zone Program	Yes
Neighborhood Assistance Program	Yes
Pennsylvania Research Manufacturing Tax Credit	Yes
Research and Development Program	Yes
Resource Enhancement and Protection Program	Yes

The portion of the tax credit that exceeds the tax liability of the awardee of the tax credit may be carried forward unless the awardee elects to sell or assign the tax credit or pass it through to its owners.

Tax credits are often sold through credit brokers; however, a credit broker is not a requirement of sale. For additional information about using purchased or assigned tax credits, see the specific section for each tax credit.

PERSONAL INCOME TAX REPORTING REQUIREMENTS FOR SALE OF RESTRICTED TAX CREDITS

Seller of a Restricted Tax Credit

For Pennsylvania personal income tax purposes, the sales of restricted tax credits are taxable as gains on the sale, exchange or disposition of property to the sellers or original awardees of the restricted tax credits.

The taxpayer selling the restricted tax credit reports the sale of the tax credit as a sale of intangible property for Pennsylvania personal income tax purposes on PA-20S/PA-65 Schedule D.

The taxpayer's cost basis in the restricted tax credit sold is usually $0 as the tax credit is awarded based upon income or expenses already included in the current or a prior year's tax return(s) whereas no adjustment or reduction in income or expenses is required to be made to obtain such tax credit.

A reduction in the sales price may be reported if commissions are paid to an agent or broker for the sale of such restricted tax credits in the amount of the commissions paid that reduce the amount of net proceeds received by the taxpayer.

The taxpayer reports the date of the award of the restricted tax credit as the acquisition date and the date sold as the date the sale was consummated. The gross proceeds the taxpayer receives from the sale of the restricted tax credit less any commissions paid are included as the sales price of the tax credit sold.

Purchaser of a Restricted Tax Credit

A taxpayer who purchases a restricted tax credit at a cost to him or her of less than the full value of the tax credit must also report a gain or loss on the sale, exchange or disposition of property for Pennsylvania personal income tax purposes.

The taxpayer purchasing the restricted tax credit reports the transaction as a sale of intangible property for Pennsylvania personal income tax purposes PA-20S/PA-65 Schedule D. Unlike the sale of a restricted tax credit, the purchaser records as his or her cost basis, the full purchase price of the tax credit (complete sales price of all such tax credits purchased plus any commissions paid by the purchaser). The taxpayer records the purchase date as the date acquired and records the tax year end date (usually December 31) for the tax year to which the tax credit is applied as the date the restricted tax credit was sold.

The sales price of the tax credit is the full value of the tax credit permitted or allowed to be applied to the tax return of the taxpayer. The difference between the sale price and the cost basis is the gain or loss on the transaction. By recording only the amount of tax credit allowed or permitted as the sales price and the full purchase price of the tax credit as the basis, restricted tax credits purchased and not able to be used due to any tax limitations imposed under the law permitting the use of a purchased tax credit require no pro-ration of tax credit cost and no separate reporting of the loss on unused tax credits.

A taxpayer who sells tax credits and/or offsets their tax liability with purchased or assigned tax credits, does not need to send documentation of sale or assignment with their PA-20S/PA-65 Information Return. However, the department reserves the right to request this documentation if needed.

Passing Through Tax Credit to Entity Owners

Prior to passing tax credits through to entity owners, some tax credits must first be applied to the entity's corporate tax liability, if any, for the year in which the tax credit is granted. If the entity has a tax liability for the tax year in which the credit is approved for use the tax credit must first be applied to that tax liability. Review the specific information for each tax credit to determine if the tax credit must first be applied to corporate liability.

If an entity does not use all approved tax credits, it may elect in writing to pass through all or a portion of the tax credit to owners, in proportion to the share of the entity's distributive income to which the owner is entitled. In most cases the tax credit may be applied up to the full amount of owners' tax liabilities, minus any other nonrefundable credits that are applied first. See the information regarding specific tax credits to review existing restrictions or limitations.

An owner of a pass through entity to which a tax credit is transferred must immediately claim the tax credit in the tax year in which the transfer is made. The owner may not carry forward, carry back, obtain a refund of, sell, assign or pass through the tax credit again.

Married couples with joint ownership in pass through entities must be separately listed on the entities' pass through of credit request in order for credit to be applied to each individual's tax number.

 Note. Exceptions to this rule apply for the EITC and OSTC tax credits.

Example. A taxpayer and spouse jointly own a 50 percent interest in a partnership, and their son John owns the other 50 percent. All income is distributed according to the ownership percentages. The request to pass through a credit must separately list the taxpayer and spouse's tax numbers, each receiving 25 percent of the credit, and John receiving the remaining 50 percent under his tax number. This method must be followed even though the taxpayer and spouse receive a separate RK-1 or NRK-1 from the partnership.

To pass through tax credits to owners, an entity must submit a request on entity letterhead to the Department of Revenue at the following address listing the total amount of credit to be distributed to the entity owner(s), the name and address of each owner, amount of tax credit to be passed through to each owner, tax year, tax type and owner's tax identification number. See the Example.

PA DEPARTMENT OF REVENUE
BUREAU OF CORPORATION TAXES
PO BOX 280701
HARRISBURG PA 17128-0701

The statement must be signed by an authorized representative of the entity, and should be submitted before owners file their individual tax returns.

Some tax credit programs provide a claim form, located on the reverse side of the award letter. Credit awardees should use the claim form to indicate the tax accounts to which the tax credit should be applied.

There are two exceptions to the process outlined above for passing through tax credit:

- To pass through an Educational Improvement Tax Credit or Opportunity Scholarship Tax Credit, the taxpayer must complete and submit form REV-1123, Educational Improvement Tax Credit Election Form.
- To pass through a Keystone Innovation Zone tax credit, visit the Department of Community and Economic Development's (DCED) website at www.newpa.com or call DCED Customer Service at 1-800-379-7448.

For general information pertaining to all restricted tax credits as well as specific details regarding each tax credit individually – including each tax credit's carry-forward and pass through rules, applications and guidelines – review the description in these instructions and Chapter 17 of the Pennsylvania Personal Income Tax Guide.

Out-of-State Credits S Corporations Only

Certain S corporations are not taxed as S corporations (taxed as a C corporation) in other states. In such cases an entity must account for taxes paid to other states in order to claim the correct resident tax credit. Note a C corporation return must be submitted.

TIP Only Pennsylvania resident shareholders can claim credit for taxes paid to other states by the entity.

To calculate the amount of Pennsylvania resident credit, multiply the amount of income apportioned to the other state by the Pennsylvania personal income tax rate of 3.07 percent. The credit is the lesser of this calculated amount or the actual amount of tax paid to the other state.

The C corporation from another state that is an S corporation for Pennsylvania reports on Line 5 the lesser of the amount of tax paid on the apportioned income as compared to the tax rate of Pennsylvania.

The entity then distributes the amount reported on Line 5 according to ownership percentage.

EXAMPLE

Total income from everywhere	$100,000
PA-source income	25,000
Other state’s income	.75,000 x 2.00 percent (0.0200)
	= $ 1,500
Other state’s income Also taxed in Pennsylvania	.75,000 x 3.07 percent (0.0307)
	= $ 2,302
Lesser of the two	$.1,500

The amount of credit reported on Line 5 is $1,500 because it is less than the amount of tax payable to Pennsylvania.

Note. Resident shareholders report this credit on their PA-40 Personal Income Tax Return, as a resident credit on PA-40 Schedule G-L.
